I'd like to prevent people from going into sleep mode, so they can't use or see the display while they are playing. Is there a way to do this? A: I'm sure there are several ways, but all involve modifying the way you tell the console to enter sleep mode (which is directly controlled by the console's security system, since there's no "wake mode"). Some suggestions: Turn on Auto-Run (at least in PS2 mode) Unplug the console Find a way to force the console into true, always-on (such as pulling the power plug out of the console) Another solution, which requires a remote control, would be to use the MyPS2 controller. This allows you to view the console's screen from anywhere in the house. A: You can always try the 'IR wake function' on your remote/remote control. It would be pretty easy to disable/mute the screen in the PS2. A: This can be
