The 'vault' is perceived by your computer as any other drive, so you can simply drag and drop documents inside it, ensuring instant protection. The files protected with Cryptainer LE can only be viewed, accessed and changed if you have the proper password, otherwise being invisible. When you unmount the volume or exit the program, the 'vault' becomes invisible even to your operating system. Cryptainer LE stores files in a secure encrypted container you can name. You can have multiple containers on any form of removable media (USB pen drives, Compact Flash drives, etc.) for extra security. Each container is used like any other drive. You simply drag your data into the container, making it accessible to only you or to specified people. Cryptainer LE takes care of the encryption for you.
